1949-OFFER 51A

PLEASE READ BEFORE ORDERING (Being Conditions of Sale)

Seeds and bulbs are forwarded as ready. All seeds, but not actual bulbs or live plants, are postpaid. Goods are offered subject to arrival or harvest. Because of the unstable and unpredictable conditions of the times, I reserve the right to change prices without notice.

I try to send out only good seeds, bulbs and plants, but since I have no control over the purchaser's degree of knowledge and skill, nor over the time and method of planting, nor over the care given the materials afterward, nor over climate or the weather of the particular season, I cannot be responsible for any results dependent on such factors. Should, though, stock prove untrue, or arrive in poor condition, a prompt report to me will bring quick adjustment.

Please remit by postal money order if you can. It is a thoroughly safe and inexpensive way of sending money. Be sure that clerk makes out order clearly to Moorestown, for there is another postoffice of similar name in the state. We will accept personal checks in instances where it is inconvenient to get a money order, but please do not send checks on any order of less than $2.00. Because of the large number of personal checks we must put through, the bank makes a collection service charge, and on a too-small order this can quite take up the profit. Sometimes actual currency is sent. That is safe if letter is registered; otherwise the risk of loss is the responsibility of the remitter.

A minimum order size must be set, for due to fixed charges and packing costs, we actually lose money on the too-small orders. Smallest acceptable seed order is $1.00. When plants or bulbs are ordered, the total value of them for forwarding at one time must be at least $2.00.

PLANTS AND BULBS BY MAIL—Seeds are postpaid at catalog prices, and safe arrival of them is guaranteed. Plants and bulbs are not postpaid, and will normally be sent by express, but we will be glad to send them by mail if you will add to your remittance for them 5% for shipments to points east of Pittsburgh and north of the Potomac, 10% for points beyond these limits but still east of the Mississippi, and 15% for destinations west of that river. This additional allowance is to cover postage, and the cost of mail packing. Safe arrival in good, growable condition is guaranteed of bulbs and plants during period from April 15th to November 25th. During the remainder of the year, the general winter season, bulbs and plants are guaranteed as to arrival only, and not against freezing in transit, so if you order bulbs or plants for winter shipment, bear in mind that freezing risk is yours. We shall, though, pack carefully and warmly.

PLANT FINDER

As a rough aid in picking out species of a particular nature, or suited for a particular purpose, we are using a series of numerals before names. These numerals have nothing to do with the key letters and numerals that appear after names, and that are explained in detail in next column. Here are the meanings of the numerals before names.

- 1—An herbaceous perennial, winter-hardy.
- 2—An herbaceous perennial, tender.
- 3—Bulb or bulb-like plant usually grown in garden.
- 4—Bulb or bulb-like plant usually grown under glass, as in window, or conservatory.
- 5—Shrub, woody-stemmed plant, hardy.
- 6—Shrub, woody-stemmed plant, tender.
- 7—Vine, hardy.
- 8—Vine, tender.
- 9—Tree, hardy.
- 10—Tree, tender.

HARDY, as used above, signifies that plants can be grown out of doors at Philadelphia.

TENDER, as used above, signifies that the species is usually grown under glass in climate of Philadelphia, as a pot plant in windows, or in greenhouses and conservatories. Further south many of these species become easy garden plants.

May usually be sown in early spring also, providing they have been stratified, or have received refrigerator treatment. Cultural folder sent with seeds, gives directions for this.
- yt—Seeds so marked should be sown in late autumn or earliest spring in outdoor seedbed. If sown too late in spring, they may lie dormant until following year.

NUMERALS IN PARENTHESES indicate season and duration of bloom, as follows: (1) early spring, (2) late spring and early summer, (3) summer, (4), late summer and early autumn, (5) all autumn, (6) late autumn, (7) winter, (8) tends to be ever-blooming, (9) grown for fruit, form or foliage, rather than flowers. NUMERAL FOLLOWING PARENTHESES indicates normal mature height in inches (or in feet if so specified) under good culture. A STAR (*) after a name indicates a perennial that will bloom first year from early sowing.

ANNUAL FLOWERS, one-year kinds that come into bloom within a few weeks after the seed is sown, are indicated by a star or asterisk (*) before the name.

THE RARE FRANKLINIA

The FRANKLIN TREE is an attractive large shrub or small tree, easily grown, thriving under about same conditions as do the Azaleas and Rhododendrons. In full bloom it is truly beautiful, blossoms that are big, waxen, snow white cups or bowls, each centered with a golden stamen tassel. Illustrated on front cover. Valued doubly because it blooms in late summer and early autumn when flowers on woody plants are not plentiful. Foliage usually becomes rich scarlet as the weather grows cooler. The Franklinia grows naturally as a bushy, but upright shrub, with several branching stems. It may also be trained as a small tree by allowing but one stem to grow, and then pruning into shape as the branches form. Botanically it is Gordonia alata. Seeds germinate readily. They should be sown in a mixture of sand and peat, and kept well-watered at all times. Sowings may be made during the winter months under glass, germination taking place within a few weeks, or the sowing may be deferred until early spring, and made in a cold frame or out-door seed bed. 10 seeds for 25c; 50 seeds for $1.00; 250 seeds for $4.00. Plants, one year and up, 7 to 11 inches high, single stem, each 70c; 3 for $1.90. Larger plants, 12 to 18 inches, that have started to branch, each $1.00; 3 for $2.75. Franklinia grows rapidly, and starts blooming while quite young.

*THE SOUTHERN STAR

Blossoms that are inch-wide stars in many-flowered sprays. The coloring, a most unusual blue of silver-veiled, pastel quality seems to have been painted on each petal. The plants grow to some fifteen inches, the stems arching so that the constellations of blue blossoms face upward. It is OXYPETALUM CAERULEUM (or Tweedia). Illustrated opposite. Seeds sown in open ground in April produce plants that are in bloom before end of June, constant blossoming from then until toward end of October. Also makes a pretty, long-blooming pot plant. Pkt. 20c;  $\frac{1}{16}$  oz. 35c;  $\frac{1}{8}$  oz. 60c.

NEWER ANNUAL FLOWERS

One may keep to just the newer annual flowers and still have a colorful, all-season garden of kinds that many garden-folk do not know, and have not yet enjoyed. One such newer flower is the Southern Star (Oxyptetalum) offered above. Others we list below. Look for the description of each of them in its proper alphabetic position in this catalog. Several of these Newer Annuals are our own introductions, first grown commercially at our Old Orchard Nursery. Anoda Opalcup; Cleome Golden; Aphanostephium or Lazy Daisy; Cassia or Gold-coin Flower; Cuphea Avalon Hybrids; Hibiscus Manihot; Incarvillea Annual; Proboscidea Blend; Star of Texas or Xanthisma; Tahoka Daisy; Viola Cliff Imp; Coral Flower. Separately these are priced at 15 or 20c the packet, but for just $1.35 we will send one packet each of the 12 kinds. No changes. Order as NEW ANNUAL OFFER 2A9.

CLIVIA HYBRIDS

Here are aristocrats of the Amaryllis family to be grown as pot plants. From straplike foliage rise stout stems crowned with trumpet blossoms from softest creamy yellow, through golden and burnt orange, to salmon-tinged scarlet. Illustrated opposite. Leaves are wide, heavy, symmetrically arranged, and plant is attractive year around. Large succulent seeds, per seed 35c; 3 seeds for $1.00; 8 seeds for $2.10. Young plants, not less than one year old, each $1.00; 3 for $2.85. These are still well under blooming size, and are intended for growing on.

Fine large flowers in Grandiflorus size and form, carried on yard-high stems, see illustration opposite. Some of them may be blush-suffused white, others will range through pale and deep pink, coral, rose and scarlet, with variations into mauve, lilac and lavender. In a group of the seedlings, scarce two plants will show alike. Eventually many will undoubtedly be propagated by cuttings and offered as separate named varieties. ## 5 NEW ABELIA DELIGHT

Blossoms of clear pink with tiny touch of yellow appear in constant succession from June to October when the fascinating HYBRID ABELIA EDWARD GOUCHER is grown as an outdoor shrub. Safely winter-hardy to at least Philadelphia, but in areas of much colder climate will need sheltered position. Sometimes it is grown as a pot plant for window or greenhouse. It makes a graceful, arching growth, and indoors it is easily kept to pot plant size by judicious pinching back from time to time. Outside it soon becomes a low shrub. Nice, young plants, branched, each 65c; 3 for $1.75.

4 ACHIMENES 3

Brilliantly hued blossoms rather in the Gloxinia reminder, but with intensification of velvety coloring. Flowers mostly in delightful tones of lavender, with variations from mauve to purple. Achimenes starts blooming in late spring, giving then several months of flowers. Usually it is grown as a pot plant, blooming year after year, the tubers increasing freely. It also does well in the garden if put in a lightly shaded position and kept well watered. The tubers are naturally rather tiny, and dry quickly when exposed to air, so we now supply them only in soil, actually growing, or ready to grow. We plant at least four in each pot, and guarantee at least three good ones (but there may be more). We offer each lot of 3 started roots (in soil), enough for a medium pot, for 60c. 3 lots, being at least 9 roots, for $1.45; 10 lots (at least 30 roots) for $4.50. Available early April, through June. Illustrated opposite.

3 AGAPANTHUS 4

Great umbels of glorious trumpet-flowers, spread to starry form. Waxy petals, amethyst to indigo, or rarely white. The bloom is carried on stems that range between 18 and 60 inches in height. First year of blooming there may be only a few flowers but the second year up to 30 or more in the blue, and on a single stem of the Giant White we have had at Old Orchard as many as 160 blossoms. Agapanthus grows readily from seed, often blooming within the year if kept in continuous growth. It may be handled as a large pot plant, and will force for winter bloom, but usually it is grown out of doors in summer, dug in autumn, and carried over winter in a semidormant condition replanted in sand or earth in a light cool cellar. Illustrated page 1. Seeds in mixture, mostly varied blues. Pkt. 15c;  $\frac{1}{16}$  oz. 35c;  $\frac{1}{8}$  oz. 60c;  $\frac{1}{4}$  oz. \$1.00. GIANT WHITE AGAPANTHUS—Comes true. Plants, each 65c; 3 for \$1.80.

It is a long lasting flower for cutting, too. Illustrated opposite. Pkt. 20c; 3 pkts. for 50c.

3 ALSTROEMERIA BEAUTY 4

Great sheafs of blossoms in wide range of colorings. Though called Lilies, they really belong to the Amaryllis family. They grow from masses of brittle, tuberous roots, and at Old Orchard, seem to be pretty much winter hardy. We give them a mulching of straw in late autumn, removing part of the straw in spring, but leaving the rest about the roots through the summer to give the cool soil in which they delight. So handled the plantings get larger and finer each year, and when the Alstroemerias are in bloom, there is nothing in the Nursery more decorative, more gorgeous. In very cold regions the roots can be dug in autumn and cellar-stored over winter in sand, but that is not necessary here in New Jersey. Alstroemeria grows well from seed "kt" culture, often giving a few blossoms first year. Sometimes, though, the seed lies over to the second spring before germinating.

AURANTIACA—Showy flowers, soft yellow to rich orange, the upper petals carmine splashed. Illustrated here. Fully adaptable to garden culture. We have open ground plantings at Old Orchard that were made some 18 years ago, and that are still thriving and blooming. Pkt. 20c;  $\frac{1}{8}$  oz. 40c;  $\frac{1}{4}$  oz. 75c; 1 oz. \$2.75. Plants, spring delivery, each 45c; 3 for \$1.20.

CHILENSIS—22 inches. Bright blossoms in pink and in tones of rose or red, often with hint of attractive orange suffusions. Sometimes cream or salmon forms appear. Excellent either in the garden, winter-hardy well north if protected with straw or leaves. Also does well as a pot plant under glass. Pkt. 20c;  $\frac{1}{8}$  oz. 45c;  $\frac{1}{4}$  oz. 80c; 1 oz. \$2.90. Plants, potted, spring delivery, each 60c; 3 for \$1.65.

ALSTROEMERIA AURANTIACA

THE RARER ALSTROEMERIAS—Less usual kinds that are just as easy to grow as the two offered above. HAEMANTHA—35 inches. Pkt. 30c; HOOKERI—A dwarf, upright grower that does particularly well as a pot plant, blooming under glass February into late July. Blossoms soft pink, with markings of carmine and touch of white. Pkt. 30c. LIGTU HYBRIDS—24 inches. ## 3 AMARYLLIS 4

To horticulturists Amaryllis is still a living name, but to botanists it is now but a memory and a milestone.

AMARYLLIS HYBRIDS

AMARYLLIS GIANT HYBRIDS—w. Magnificent flowers, great expanded trumpets in rose, scarlet, crimson, all one color, or more often with white star-throats, or great splashings and barrings of white. There is no more spectacular flowering bulb for pot culture, and that culture is easy, too, easy enough for any sunny window. Illustrated opposite. Seeds saved from fine selected plants. 10 seeds for 25c; 50 for $1.00; 100 for $1.75; 250 for $3.75; 500 for $7.00. Bulbs available throughout year, except during July and August. AMARYLLIS BELLADONNA—w(k) (4)20. The Beautiful Lady. Perfumed, clustered flower-trumpets, soft pink to deep rose. Bulbs available June to October, each 70c; 3 for $1.90; 10 for $5.60. Technically Brunsvigia rosea.

AMARYLLIS FORMOSISSIMA—This showy, easy bulb-flower is often called "The Garden Amaryllis," for it does very well just grown in the summer garden in manner of Gladiolus, being also dug and stored in autumn in Gladiolus fashion. Often within three weeks after the spring planting of it, the great fantastically formed blossoms will be appearing, flowers of velvety crimson, gold-glistening with pollen dust. Botanically this is SPREKELIA FORMOSISSIMA, and other names for it are Mexican Fire Lily, Inca Lily and Jacobean Lily. By the way, you can grow it in pots indoors, too. Dig the tubers in late autumn, and store. Tubers only, two-inch diameters and up, each $1.25; 3 for $3.50; 10 for $10.00. It is BLANDFORDIA NOBILIS, handsome Australian Liliad of quite easy handling. The flowers are pendant, red-crimson bells, petals tipped with yellow. The blossoms are carried in rather dense racemes to a height of around two feet. Desirable plant for pot culture in window or greenhouse. It may, though, prove more hardy than supposed, for it is reported that Blandfordia was grown in the open ground for several continuous years at the Edinburgh Botanic Garden. Experiments would seem to be in order with this beautiful plant. 8 seeds for 25c; 30 seeds for $1.00.

3 AN EASIER ORCHID 4

It is BLETTILLA HYACINTHINA, easiest of hardy Orchids, and one of the lovelier of them. It may be grown from seeds without need of too great skill, but patience and attention to detail are required. Directions in cultural leaflet sent with all seeds. Three-year seedlings often bloom. Bletilla is an attractive Orchid with fairly large blossoms of amethystine purple, or of white. Winter-hardy outside at Philadelphia, or will force nicely, grown in pots in window or greenhouse. Illustrated back cover. Seeds, purple and white mixed, mostly purple. Pkt. 35c; 3 for \$1.00. Pkt. 10c;  $\frac{1}{8}$  oz. 20c.

SALMAGUNDI doesn't always mean pickles. One dictionary meaning is "a medley," and our particular SALMAGUNDI, offered here, is surely that. It is a mixture of seeds of pretty nearly everything we offer, including Treasure Chest listings, and of a few we don't as yet catalog (left-over from our own trial sowings). Of some kinds there will be just a trace, of others much, for this is where old seeds go. Seeds are mostly one-year old, a few older. They won't all grow, but a lot of them will, and at low price at which this is sold, you can be pretty sure of getting excellent value in plants from it.  $\frac{1}{4}$  oz. 20c;  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz. 35c; 1 oz. 60c;  $\frac{1}{4}$  lb. \$2.00.

5 BUDDLEIA or BUTTERFLY BUSH 1

Flowers of soft blue, lilac, lavender, rose-violet, glowing wine purple, sometimes in pink, and one or two species even of orange, are carried in long, dense tapering racemes over a period of many weeks. At Philadelphia, most of the Buddleias are winter-hardy shrubs. In colder climates they may behave as herbaceous perennials, only the roots living over, and new stems arising each season. Since they bloom on the new growth, this doesn't lessen the number of flowers. Buddleias grow with ease from seed, usually giving a truss or two of bloom first year from early sowings. Illustrated opposite. We offer a mixture of both hybrids and species in full color range. Order as BUDDLEIA SPECIAL BLEND. Pkt. 20c;  $\frac{1}{4}$  oz. 40c;  $\frac{1}{8}$  oz. 75c.

3 THE CALLA LILIES 4

Wonderfully satisfactory as pot plants for winter bloom or they will handle with ease for flowers in the summer garden. Don't think, though, that you can have blossoms from the same bulbs both winter and summer. It won't work—at one season or the other the bulbs must rest. The Pitcher Plants have leaves like oddly hooded, water-holding pitchers or urns, decidedly, if somewhat bizarrely, decorative. Then there are blossoms, rather large and quite showy ones. They like a soil containing some peat admixture, with sandy loam, and should be watered in drought. They are quite generally grown also as pot plants, because of their decorative form, highly attractive flowers, and interesting habit. Seeds grow quite surely if planting be kept moist. "K" culture advised, though success has been reported in seed germination under glass. RUBRA—Erect, purple-veined pitchers and sweetly fragrant crimson flowers. Does particularly well in pots. ## THE FLOWER BROADCAST

For great color spreads in field or border, on hillside or waste-land. A blend of vigorous, easily naturalized kinds, both annual and perennial, that may be broadcast right where effect is desired. Even with minimum soil preparation, there will likely be some fair showing, but the more you can do toward fining the soil, whether by plow, harrow, fork or hand-rake, the better will be the results. In any case, scratch the seed in, then firm with roller, tamp or just by tramping. Species in this blend are not wild flowers in usual sense, but any kinds of gay color that will establish readily, and then spread through own self-sowing.  $\frac{1}{8}$  oz. 25c;  $\frac{1}{4}$  oz. 40c;  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz. 70c; 1 oz. \$1.25;  $\frac{1}{4}$  lb. \$4.30; 1 lb. \$16.00; 5 lbs. \$75.00.
